

BD Sales Diversity Internship Program

BD's Sales Diversity Internship Program is a 10- to 12-week program designed to attract highly motivated undergraduates who want to acquire practical work experience within the Sales Organization. Students may work within cross-functional or interdisciplinary teams and may have multiple internal partners and customers.

Additionally, students will be partnered with peers, senior personnel and supervisors who will provide informal mentoring and coaching towards success. Students will be exposed to the BD culture and our process of selling medical device products across the US.
