4. Conflict of Interest

- Next, you will answer two questions related to conflict of interest K, which Boeing requires from all applicants to ensure compliance with our requirements as a government contractor.

Application Questions 1 of 2

Conflict of Interest

The Boeing Company is a government contractor and does business all over the world. Governments impose certain regulatory requirements that affect Boeing, its employees and candidates for employment. Boeing reviews all potential hires as part of its anti-corruption program. In order to ensure compliance with these regulatory requirements, Boeing requires all applicants to complete this form.

Throughout this questionnaire, "Boeing" refers to any business unit, operating group or function of The Boeing Company and its subsidiaries.

Before you begin, please take the time to read these IMPORTANT instructions on how to answer the following two questions.

- Currently employed by a government entity, worldwide (country, state, province, municipality, local, etc.) at the pay grade of or equivalent to the United States (U.S.) Office of Personnel Management (OPM) General Schedule level GS-13 or above;
- Currently serving in or employed by a military service, worldwide (including active duty, reserves, National Guard, militia, etc.) at or the equivalent to the U.S. military rank of O-5 or above?
- Currently employed by a state-owned, controlled or operated entity (airline, utility, financial institution, etc.)?

In Question 2, you will respond to the following question, "Does your current employment involve Boeing?" This question establishes whether your current employment involves Boeing.

You should answer "Yes" if you meet any of the following conditions:

- Test (e.g. you are a test pilot), acceptance, inspections, safety rulings, or approval of Boeing products or services;
- Financial responsibilities including work on contracts, procurements, program management, funding decisions, trade issues, claims, and import or export licenses;
- Audits, investigations, and litigation; or
- Serving as an employee of the U.S. Federal Aviation Administration (FAA), U.S. Defense Contract Audit Agency (DCAA), or U.S. Defense Contract Management Agency (DCMA).

NOTE: You may answer "NO" if you are currently:

- An employee of a Boeing subsidiary;
- Employed as a contractor for Boeing or contract hire through an agency or consulting firm;
- A pilot with a United States based commercial airline, cargo or charter company flying Boeing products; or
- Performing routing machine maintenance, repairs and service on Boeing Products.

All questions must be answered completely and submitted to certify the accuracy of your answers.

Applicant Privacy Policy

Boeing's Commitment to Privacy. Boeing ("The Boeing Company" and its subsidiaries) respects the privacy of applicants and employees, and is committed to complying with applicable privacy and personal data protection laws in every country in which we operate. This Applicant Privacy Policy is intended to inform you about how the personal information you submit as a job applicant through this website, and other Boeing recruiting channels, will be handled and protected by Boeing.

Why We Collect and Use Your Personal Information. Boeing collects and uses your personal information for the purpose of determining your qualifications for employment and reaching a hiring decision, as well as to comply with applicable laws and regulations, such as laws related to the evaluation of those seeking employment, or to defend ourselves in claims under such laws. Relevant portions of your personal information, if you are hired, also will be used to establish a basic employment record. We do not collect or use the personal information you submit as a job applicant for unrelated purposes.

How We Collect Personal Information about You. Most of the personal information Boeing collects about you is collected directly from your application and resume or curriculum vitae, which is stored on servers located in the United States. We may also collect this type of information from you through other channels and the data may be stored on servers in other jurisdictions. We may also collect information about you from third parties, in order to: (a) verify information about your credentials, such as education and prior employment, (b) follow-up on references that you may provide, and (c) conduct background investigations. It is Boeing's policy to collect such information from third parties only with your knowledge and agreement. Should Boeing wish to obtain such third party information about you, and you have not completed an employment application authorizing us to do so, we will contact you and request your authorization to proceed.

Consent to process personal information. Information you provide will be used based upon your consent to the provisions of this policy indicated by your submission of data. You may revoke this consent by contacting The Global Privacy Office via the methods describe above.
