World-class cancer care takes faculty like you

Join us as a Medical Director, Cancer Clinical Trials Office.

Join our cancer enterprise at Cedars-Sinai Cancer during a transformational period of growth and impact. Ranked by US News & World Report as the #7 Best Hospital in Cancer in 2020-2021, Cedars-Sinai Cancer is looking for a nationally recognized investigator for the position of Medical Director of the Cancer Clinical Trials Office.

The Clinical Trials Office (CCTO) at Cedars-Sinai Cancer invites applications for full-time Medical Director. We are seeking individuals with leadership experience in clinical research to work with CCTO management and cancer center leadership. The Medical Director of the CCTO will provide medical direction and is responsible for ensuring the quality of services provided by the CCTO.

Staffed by highly trained professional research personnel (research nurses, clinical research coordinators and clinical research associates), the Cancer Clinical Trials Office is a central office that provides the infrastructure and function for operations of Cancer Clinical Trials at Cedars-Sinai Cancer, including its medical network and health system, which at any given time has approximately 140 cancer clinical trials. CCTO resources are available to both faculty and industry sponsors to assist throughout the lifecycle of a protocol, from inception to study closeout. The CCTO is the central point of contact who coordinates with investigational pharmacy, laboratory, nursing, the National Cancer Institute (NCI) and other collaborating academic institutions. The CCTO has several operational units that perform specific functions to support investigators and their clinical trials. This includes quality assurance, regulatory affairs, financial operations, clinical coordination, education and training of clinical staff, study coordination/clinical research support and data coordination.

Applicants should have a strong track record of oversight of operations, budget, resource allocations, strategic planning and management.

We invite candidates with strength in clinical research to apply.
