Who are we? AstraZeneca at a glance

We are a global, science-led biopharmaceutical business and our innovative medicines are used by millions of patients worldwide.

Science is at the core of everything we do. But more than that, science is who we are. We combine a unique range of knowledge, skills and experience with a passion for following the science.

We conduct our research across five countries. In 2021 we invested $9.7 billion in our science. Our capabilities helped us to understand the unmet medical needs in different geographies and patient types. We have 28 manufacturing sites across 16 countries and are committed to ensuring a reliable supply of medicines within our 5 focus therapy areas:

Oncology, Respiratory & Immunology, Cardiovascular, Renal & Metabolism, Rare Diseases and Vaccines and Immune Therapies.

We work in over 100 countries, with strength in emerging markets, and our medicines are used by millions of patients worldwide. We have more than 83.000 employees around the globe.

If you're inspired by what science can do to make a difference to patients' lives and ready to discover what you can do – join us.

Our strategic priorities

Our strategic priorities reflect how we are working to achieve our purpose of pushing the boundaries of science to deliver life-changing medicines:

Deliver growth & TA leadership

Accelerate science & innovation

People & sustainability

A great place to work

Our collaborative culture

Being determined to make the right choices to win plays out in our culture of lifelong learning. Where our people are empowered to develop their knowledge and skills to grow their potential and deliver life-changing medicines to patients.

Establishing and maintaining a healthy culture requires a continual commitment to assessing the interests and needs of the stakeholders and creating an environment that fosters psychological safety and wellbeing.

We are proud to say that we have dedicated teams that proactively build work environment, collaborative spaces, and cultural initiatives to foster a great place to work regularly.

We support work-life balance

Our culture is based on high performance, where every person adds value for customers and shareholders, and understands the link between their contribution and our business' success. We appreciate the importance of recognizing individual needs and supporting work-life balance, which are key elements of providing an energizing work environment.

New reward and benefits schemes are constantly devised to meet varied and changing employee needs around individual choices.

Health & well-being

We believe that a healthy work environment leads to healthier levels of productivity. At our sites in Sweden we offer exercise and healthcare facilities, however, we recognise that all our employees might not have the same needs and interests. Therefore we also have a wellness allowance that our employees can choose to use partially towards our own facilities and/or external activities.

In addition to this we offer activities and programs to promote health and well-being, motivation, and job satisfaction.

Sustainability

Sustainability at AstraZeneca is about using our capabilities to make the most meaningful impact where society needs it – health. We lead with health to support healthy people, a thriving planet and an ethical business culture.

Our approach to sustainability is built around three pillars that put health at the heart of work – beginning with Access to healthcare. The other two pillars are Environmental protection and Ethics and transparency.

We are committed to the health of our patients, employees, environment and the communities we reach through our medicines, our investments and our partnerships. All of this is underpinned by a healthy business culture, centered around integrity, respect and transparency.

“Sustainability is about taking responsibility for how we conduct our business and helping our employees be motivated to embed a sustainable mindset into their day to day work. I see sustainability as a core part of our company culture, and for us to be successful, it is critical that our sustainability strategy is an integral part of the overall company strategy.”

Katarina Ageborg – Executive Vice-President, Sustainability and Chief Compliance Officer; President AstraZeneca AB, Sweden

Ambition Zero Carbon

At AstraZeneca Sustainability is about to contribute to a healthy society, healthy people and a health planet.

We are taking bold action on climate because we recognize the connection between healthy people and a healthy planet.

The impact of climate change includes increasing levels of ill health, including a rise in chronic conditions e.g. heart disease, strokes, lung cancer and respiratory diseases. All of these have detrimental impacts on people's lives and the societies and economies in which we live.

As a sector we must do more — approximately 4% of global greenhouse gas (GHG) emissions come from the healthcare sector, from pharmaceutical manufacturing to hospitals. So everyone involved in the delivery of healthcare has a role to play.

Through our $1 billion Ambition Zero Carbon programme, we are on track to reduce greenhouse gas emissions from our global operations by 98% by 2026.

Half our entire value chain footprint (from 2015 baseline) by 2030 is on the way to a 90% reduction by 2045.

Our emission reduction targets have been verified by the Science Based Targets initiative (SBTi) and we were 1 of the first 7 companies worldwide to have our net zero, science-based Scope 1-3 targets verified under their new Net-Zero Corporate Standard.

We were also an early supporter of the UN-backed Race to Zero.
